And he just Liggetted back to the Rhine when he heard there might be trouble there.

German military men have learned that they cannot crowd American soldiers off the sidewalks with the same impunity with which they forced their own women to give them the whole walk.

Postmaster General Burleson is reported to have said that he is ready to resign if President Wilson wants him to resign. That is rather beside the point, which is, that the people want him to give someone else a chance to run the department. It is really the people rather than Wilson who should determine his course of action.

We no longer hear of Japan being included in the deliberations of the major allied nations, Japan having been relegated to a comparatively minor position after being accorded a front seat in the league of nations governing body. No injustice has been done Japan by such exclusion; indeed, Japan is given just about as much prominence as she merits.

DONT "GOUGE" THE SUMMER VISITORS.

Now that the Willoughby lake region is apparently on the road to development as a summer resort because of the establishment of a girls' camp of sufficient size to accommodate approximately 200 girls, the Barton Monitor takes the opportunity to warn the residents thereabouts to forego the outworn policy of "gouging" the visitors who may come to this most pleasant vacation region. The contemporary's advice is both timely and good. Oftentimes the success of a summer resort has been not only jeopardized but prevented by the unwise and unjust policy of charging the visitors more than the same things bring in other places. Prices of board, jump, rents increase by leaps and bounds, produce goes almost out of sight and other articles are placed at such a price that the visitors become disgusted and tell their friends never to go to such and such a place if they desire to have decent treatment. There will be reasonable returns for those who have investments in and around Willoughby lake if they charge prices which are not higher than in other places of like sort; and perhaps the margin of profit may be a little higher because of the lower original cost of investment. At any rate there is sure to be a good return on the investment, and the Barton contemporary, which circulates largely in the Willoughby region, is doing a good turn by warning any and all against the policy of "gouging."

WILLIAMSTOWN

Mrs. Martha Clogston and daughter, Bertha, Mrs. J. G. Reynolds, who have been in town for some three weeks past closing up the affairs of the late postmaster, Elwin J. Clogston, left town by train on the 21st for Belmont, Mass., the home of the daughter, with whom Mrs. Clogston is to live. Mr. Reynolds has been in town for a few days past, and he started the nation day for home, going in the Ford car that formerly belonged to Mr. Clogston, and accompanied by Robert E. Clogston, who will make the auto trip with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stewart are again at home after spending several weeks at Needham, Mass., as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton C. Spencer. Centenary M. E. church, Rev. A. M. Markey, pastor—Members of the G. A. R., the Relief corps, S. V., and all returned soldiers and sailors are invited to attend the services on Memorial Sunday, May 25. ## MONTPELIER

Edward Peck probably made the highest record of any boy scout in Vermont in the sale of war savings stamps. This week C. F. Lowe, who is the county chairman, presented the young boys who are entitled to those medals the honors of the occasion, but Edward drew special mention. He received his medal a long time ago, but this week was presented the gold palm, which indicates that he sold over $5,000 worth of stamps, to be exact, he had to sell over $2,520 to obtain it for the first $250, is for obtaining the medal and an additional $5,000 must be sold to get the gold palm. There are about 4,000,000 boy scouts in the country who competed for the palm. Only 216 obtained them and Edward is one of those. This honor is all the more creditable, in view of the fact that he used crutches when getting about. He has suffered two operations, hoping to improve his condition, since the sale of war savings stamps commenced, both of which were in Boston, and will shortly have another. Until the first of the operations was performed he was unable to walk at all, but gets along nicely now with the aid of crutches.

W. H. Jeffrey is hoping to get in touch with Hiram Thornton shortly. Hiram has experienced a checkered career in recent years. Recently he was committed to the house of correction on the charge of larceny. He obtained a parole but after a few months, broke this and went back to the institution. Now he has escaped from the institution, but the officers expect he will show up in a few months, for he cannot keep away from this locality.

Edmund Eddle of Woodbury appeared in Montpelier city court Thursday afternoon for sentence on the charge of striking an officer. It appears from the testimony presented that when Vernon Rand of Hardwick went to Eddle's place in Woodbury to serve a paper some weeks since, that Eddle cuffed him one, knocking him over, which resulted in the arrest. When word came to this county to place the man under arrest, the officers were advised to go well protected, but Sheriff Tracy went alone and had no trouble in the matter. Eddle coming to the city alone the next day. Eddle was a jurymen in one of the state cases tried last fall. He was given a fine of $200 and costs, with the alternative sentence in the house of correction if he does not settle.

Lee S. Tillotson, formerly adjutant general of Vermont and who recently has been discharged from federal service, has opened a law office in the Union block. Mr. Tillotson studied law with Judge Alfred A. Hall in St. Albans and was admitted to the bar in 1902. He practiced law with Judge Hall until the latter went on the bench in 1906, since which time Mr. Tillotson conducted practice alone and with Charles D. Watson. He was city judge in St. Albans for two years.

If the present plans are perfected, and it is expected they will be, the house of correction will cease to be a state institution early next month and all prisoners will be transferred to the state prison for care and treatment. The closing of the house of correction cannot take place for a little while owing to the fact that the Rutland county jail is there and arrangements must be made with those officials to give the county a chance to find accommodations. There is also about 25 acres of land planted, so that custodians of this will have to be left at Rutland to take care of the crops. The board of control decided at its meeting in Rutland to follow out the above plan.

Miss Mary McClure has received a message stating that her brother, Frank McClure, died in Joliet, Ill., Wednesday evening. He was a native of this city, born 53 years ago, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. McClure. He married Jeanie Walker of Montpelier, who, with their daughter, Miss Helen McClure of Joliet, survives the deceased beside his sister, Miss McClure of this city. The body, accompanied by Mrs. McClure and Miss McClure, will arrive here Saturday for interment in Green Mount cemetery. The Masonic rites will be performed at the cemetery. Mr. McClure was in railroad work much of his life.
